

WANTED:

FRONTEND DEVELOPER (F/M)

The early bird... starts working for Testbirds!

Since 2011 Testbirds has been a pioneer in the crowd- and cloud based testing of apps, web applications, wearables and Internet of Things applications. With the support of 100 employees and 300,000 testers globally we are successfully conquering this rapidly growing international market. If you are looking for an exciting start-up environment, this job is for you!

Your Tasks

- Developing and building frontend apps is your passion and we would like you to do this with solid and up to date technologies
- You develop new features for our crowd testing platform the Nest and bring in your own ideas for a continuous improvement
- You will support our International Development Team, from Backend to UX, to build interactive interfaces for our backend services
- With your experience working with front-end building tools, you maintain and improve the current codebase to create the best products needed for a growing business

Your Qualifications

- You studied IT, Media, Computer Science or something similar and love programming
- You worked at least 3 years as frontend developer and gained knowledge of browser compatibility issues and responsive design
- You have experience with ES6 and a modern JavaScript framework like ReactJS or Angular
- You have good knowledge of JS libraries like jQuery, Backbone and Vanilla JavaScript
- You know how to consume data-driven web services using Web API, REST and JSON
- You have worked with LESS or SASS, and managing and building projects based on Bootstrap is no problem for you

You get extra points for:

- A strong interest in Typescript, Webpack, NodeJS

We are offering

- A permanent position based in the heart of Munich near the Theresienwiese
- Flat hierarchy: you are responsible for your work and you can implement your own ideas
- Development possibilities through a variety of internal and external training opportunities
- An open culture, uncomplicated togetherness and joy of shared successes
- A great work atmosphere with a lot of team activities, foosball tournaments, flexible working hours, weekly breakfasts and all the coffee/soft drinks you can drink
